

Mr Steve Silverwood (Head Teacher)

As Head Teacher of Elsecar Holy Trinity Primary School, I am proud to lead a nurturing, inclusive Church school where every child is valued as a unique individual and a child of God. Our vision—rooted in faith, family, and community—is not just a statement, but a lived experience that guides everything we do. We warmly welcome people of all faiths, worldviews, and backgrounds, fostering a culture of respect, compassion, and forgiveness.

My role is to ensure that this vision is reflected in every aspect of school life—from the curriculum to the playground, from assemblies to staff development. I work alongside a passionate team of educators and support staff who share our commitment to helping children grow in love, wisdom, knowledge, and aspiration for a brighter future.

I am also deeply grateful for the support and guidance of our local school board. Their strategic insight and steadfast encouragement help us stay focused on our mission and continuously improve. Together, we ensure that Elsecar Holy Trinity remains a safe, joyful, and inspiring place to learn—where every child is empowered to flourish.
